People With Soft Skills Get More Done & Are More Fun to Work With August 20th, 2-6 PM, Ekstrom-Columbus Branch Library, Tucson
Providing training for hard (task oriented, functional) skills is a given. How about softer skills, those less tangible, personal growth competencies? That's less clear.

Come develop a soft skill in this session. You'll question the mental model that they aren't learnable. Let's discuss how to build capacity in your organization (or yourself) by investing in skills like imagination, experimentation, and risk-taking, then watch great customer service, creativity, and innovation happen. It's not as fuzzy as it seems!

Presented by library consultant, Cheryl Gould of Fully Engaged Libraries,

September 26th, 1-3 PM, Camp Verde Marshal's Office, Camp Verde
September 30th, 6-8 PM, Glendale Public Library-Foothills Branch, Glendale
Award-winning children's author, magazine editor, and science writer Conrad J. Storad provides his unique perspective on writing and presenting nonfiction material to students ages 5 to 12. The session is a beginner's guide for teachers, parents, and grandparents who work with young writers and readers, both the enthusiastic and reluctant variety. The session offers tips for writers of all ages. It is NOT a session on how to get a book published.

- How to write factual material in an entertaining manner.
- Writing is hard work. But it does not have to be boring.
- Importance of word choice and using vivid description as a writing technique.

Conrad J. Storad is the award-winning author of more than 40 science and nature books for children and young adults. Storad's new picture books for 2014 include Monster in the Rocks (A Southwest Desert Tale) and Gator, Gator, Second Grader. New titles published in 2013 include USA Book News Best Book Winner Fang and Stinger (An Arachnid Story), My Circulatory System, and Uncovering Earth's Crust. For more information, contact Donna Throckmorton, dthrockmorton@azlibrary.gov. To register, visit

New: ONEBOOKAZ Writing Workshop with Kristen Kauffman
Yavapai College-Public Welcome
August 22nd , 9 AM-4 PM, Yavapai College, Prescott
Morning Workshop: Narrative Essentials
Come in with pen and paper and come out with written scenes and an outline for your next great story, memoir, or novel! Kristen Kauffman walks you through the nuts and bolts of the narrative process and provides tools for writers of short fiction, long fiction, nonfiction/memoir, and even kids' stories. From idea generation to crafting scenes to the commitment to finishing a final draft, attendees will come away well-equipped to tackle their next story.

Afternoon Workshop: Turning Scenes into Stories
Every story is built on scenes—those moments in time and space where the action happens. This workshop will cover the essentials that every scene needs to be successful, no matter what genre you're writing. Additionally, this workshop will teach you how to transform scenes from isolated pieces of action to meaningful moments in an overarching story arc. Don't miss this opportunity to build your next story from the ground up!

For more information, contact Donna Throckmorton, dthrockmorton@azlibrary.gov. To register visit http://www.azlibrary.gov/eventreg/.

Lead the Change: Engaging your Community
September 9th, 9:30 AM-4 PM, Burton Barr Library, Phoenix
Lead the Change: Engaging Your Community is a full-day, hands-on workshop that brings library thought-leaders, directors, and staff together to explore effective marketing and community engagement strategies.

During this interactive program, you will be exposed to fresh ideas, insights and views from David Bendekovic, program developer and his co-facilitators, Brenda Brown, Manager of the Chandler Public Library, and Kenya Johnson, Communications Manager of the Pima County Public Library. You will be guided through a planning workbook and provided with tips, tools and techniques for developing and executing an integrated, sustainable marketing and engagement plan. You will be challenged to rethink your customers, your community, your processes and your organizational capabilities and will walk away with a framework that gets results.

Register online at ($80 Fee—includes lunch):
https://shop.mediasourceinc.com/ProductDetails.aspx?ocid=316

Note: The Arizona State Library will make a limited number of tickets available for library staff on a first come-first served basis. You must have your supervisor's permission to attend before requesting one. For more information, contact Dale Savage, dsavage@azlibrary.gov.

Artistic Storytelling

New: Play & Learn with Library Blocks
September 16th, 9 AM-Noon
September 16th, 1-4 PM
"Playing with Blocks at the Library?!?" Come join Cindy Christin, Supervisor of Children's Services at the Bozeman (MT) Public Library, for this fun workshop. We will discuss how to make our libraries even more welcoming to families, with an emphasis on providing play environments that invite learning and fun for children. We will share ideas about collections, spaces, play materials, staff training, and programming. We'll do some hands-on block building as well, so you'll see all the great developmental skills that come with wooden blocks.

For more information, contact Holly Henley, hhenley@azlibrary.gov. To register, visit http://www.azlibrary.gov/eventreg.

You are invited to tour the Rare and Artist-Made Book Collection of the Phoenix Public Library on Tuesday, September 16, 2014. The tour group will gather on the 4th Floor landing at 9:30am.
Learn about hidden treasures of the Phoenix Public Library. The Rare & Artist-Made Book Collection contains rare, historical books and ephemera from ancient times to the 20th century as well as a collection of artist made books. It is all housed in a striking space which blends traditional and modern furnishings and art.

NOTE: The size of the tour is limited to 20 people maximum.

- Traveling south on Central Avenue, turn left on McDowell Road and right on 1st Street until it ends at the Burton Barr parking lot.
- Traveling north on Central Avenue, turn right on Willetta Street, which is one block south of McDowell Road.

Library tours are a function of the Maricopa County Library Council Continuing Education Committee and are free to all library staff.
Counts as 1.5 contact hours in Facilities

For Your Information

New: Clean Elections Candidate Materials Available to Libraries
Once again this year, the Citizens Clean Elections Commission will be providing Primary and General Election Candidate Statement Pamphlets (CSP) at no cost to libraries around the state. To request print copies (English/Spanish version and/or Large Print version) of the CSP's, contact Gina Roberts at 602-364-3477 or toll-free 877-631-8891, or via email at gina.roberts@azcleanelections.gov.

New: 2014 Public Library Survey (Annual Statistics) Opens in August
The Arizona State Library will make the 2013-14 Public Library Survey available later this month at https://az.countingopinions.com/. The deadline for completing the survey is Nov. 7, 2014.

Library directors and those who have previously completed the survey will receive an email notification when the survey is ready. The email will include login information, a copy of the question set, and a Cheater's Guide with tips on completing the survey.

This year's survey adds a new federal question: Wireless Sessions – the number of wireless sessions provided by the library wireless service annually.

The survey also deleted a number of questions: Do You Subscribe to Zinio; Do you subscribe to any OCLC service; and If yes, which services. The survey collapsed the questions on librarians without an MLS or with another graduate degree into one question. The questions about children's programming and attendance at those programs have also been changed to ask for totals for children 0-11, and then to separately ask about story time programs.

For those new to the survey, or who would like a refresher, the State Library will host a statistics workshop on Wednesday, Sept. 3, from 9:30 am. to 12:30 p.m., at the Carnegie Center in Phoenix. Registration for the workshop is at: http://apps.azlibrary.gov/eventreg/.

"Reading Arizona" Ebook Platform to Launch in August
The Arizona State Library, Archives, and Public Records has signed an agreement with BiblioBoard to launch Arizona-related eBooks on BiblioBoard Library, a multi-media content delivery platform. The collection will focus on books about Arizona, including fiction, histories, natural history, family history and travel guides.

The service, to be called "Reading Arizona," will be available through the State Library's website. All of the content will be available for unlimited, multi-user access for optimal patron experience, and patrons will be able to access up to three books at a time on their offline bookshelves. BiblioBoard will include a self-publishing module for local authors with book reviews and a rating system.

Patrons should be able to begin viewing content in August. Until then, information about the project is available on the project blog, Back Story with Reading Arizona, http://www.readingarizona.wordpress.com.
